

HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT TOWN

HUNGARIANS HEAR WILSON EXTOLLED

Steve Fay, Cleveland Attorney, Criticizes Republicans for Stand on Lusitania.

Steve Fay, prominent Hungarian lawyer of Cleveland, delivered an address at Magyar hall to an enthusiastic crowd of his countrymen in the absence of George Kemeny of Cleveland, editor of the Detroit Magyar Lap and the Cleveland Donso, who was unable to get to South Bend Thursday night.

Fay criticized the republican party for its stand upon the Lusitania and Belgium questions and upheld President Wilson for keeping the country out of war. The eight hour law, the Mexican question and other national issues received liberal treatment by Fay and his audience applauded every mention of the president's name. Roosevelt was condemned by the speaker for his war talk.

Chester Montgomery and George Sands delivered talks in English to the crowd and dwelt more particularly upon the state issues, pointing out that the democratic party had shown that it stood for the laboring people by the beneficial laws placed upon the statute books during the eight years it was in power in the state.

His Citizens' Party.

Sands accused the citizens' party of turning down Alex Langel, the Hungarian nominee for city clerk, after Langel had helped get the nomination for Mayor Keller. Sands said that the citizens' party was nothing more than the republican party and that their treatment of Langel showed the contempt in which they held the foreign citizens of the city. Sam Unzer addressed a large meeting of democrats at 848 S. Chapin st., discussing at length the issues of the campaign and the merits of the two men who are running for the presidency. Gus Haslanger, candidate for the state legislature also spoke for a few minutes.

Speak to Young Men. Young men packed the Terre Coupee school house, Thursday night to hear an address by Dan Pyle upon the democratic side of the presidential campaign. Marion Gorski, candidate for the legislature, and Bert Klysz, also spoke at the meeting.

Pyle's talk was concerned principally with the national issues of the campaign. He pointed out the benefit of the rural credits bill and federal reserve banking laws to the farmers of the country. He answered the tariff arguments of the republicans and spoke upon the Mexican question.

Gorski talked upon the state issues and the laws passed by the democrats in keeping their campaign pledges to the people. Klysz spoke in Polish, a good share of the audience being of that nationality.

Democrats of Granger heard Stuart Macklabin of South Bend present the state issues of the campaign at that place, Thursday night. The Granger school house was filled to its capacity by the large audience. Peter Metzger presided at the meeting.

George Y. Hepler, member of the last state legislature and a candidate for re-election also spoke upon the state issues and E. A. Zeiler, candidate for county commissioner and J. E. Witwer, trustee of Portage township and a former resident of Granger gave short talks.

POLICE POET

He Writes Rhyme on Occasion of Lost Dog—Inspired by an Ad.

There is one man on the police force who does not belong there. His business should be writing poetry. His sense of rhythm and rhyme is so highly developed that a small want ad inspired him to poetic efforts.

This is the little want ad, which appeared in The News-Times, this week.

"The party that coaxed a little white beagle hound with brown ears Saturday night at the corner of Washington and Walnut, return to police station. Owner Officer DeLee."

Herewith we present, at the risk of our lives, the masterpiece from the pen of a high police official. It was directed to members of the police force and was read at Thursday night's roll call by Capt. Bunker, who said that it brought the men to tears, or something like that.

Mine beagle hound has skipped away. Mit a stranger, some people say. His ears are brown, and his body white. He skipped away last Saturday night.

I had been out hunting, and the pup worked fine. But after supper he began to whine. He wanted to go out, so I let him go.

And where he went to, I would like to know.

I have looked around all over my beat.

I have walked and walked till I've got sore feet.

I don't do nothing but look around. Oh where, oh where, is my Beagle hound?

So fellows if you should happen to hear

Of a beagle hound with big brown ears.

Just get him and turn him over to me.

And I will thank you—Fred DeLee.

The little verse was not written by DeLee however.

MUESSEL CIVIC CLUB ENTERTAINS OFFICERS

Banquet Given in Domestic Science Rooms at High School—To Organize Athletics.

Members of the Muesel civic club started an event that will probably be followed by the other civic clubs in the city, when they entertained the officers and committeemen at a banquet last night, held in the domestic science room of the Muesel school.

The purpose of the affair was to perfect the organization, especially along the athletic activities of the club, and also along the program work of the society. Three churches, the Trinity M. E., the Westminster Presbyterian, and the Quincy street Baptist church, entered athletic teams for the winter and each had a representative at the banquet.

Short talks were given during the evening by C. B. Eddy, president of the club, Marvin Campbell, George D. Beroth, L. W. Hammond, and F. B. Barnes. The meeting was closed by an informal discussion in which all took part.

Organization plans were completed and a program was given at a meeting of the Laurel civic club last night.

The program consisted of a piano solo by Arnold Alexander, a reading by Victoria Strauss, a vocal solo by Esther Abrams, and a dance given by Esther Rosenberg. Stereographic views of Washington, D. C., were also shown, and a talk was given by F. B. Barnes. Community singing which was led by Miss E. E. Harmon, closed the meeting.

KEEP YOUR FURNITURE LOOKING LIKE NEW

Preserve Its Original Beauty.

The art of keeping your furniture looking new from day to day is an easy one. It is simply a matter of bringing out the original finish in all its natural beauty, instead of applying an extra coat of artificial polish, which too often either leaves a sticky film to collect dust, or else gums or dries the varnish, thus promoting checking and cracking.

The better homes throughout the country are now using Tobey Polish because of its natural cleaning and renewing qualities. This is the same polish used by the Tobey Furniture Company (Chicago and New York) on every piece of fine furniture they make, and is made after their own secret shop formula.

Tobey Polish restores the newness to varnished and enameled surfaces. It does it naturally—by cleaning the finish and maintaining in its original condition. Keeps the varnish elastic and new—free from checking and cracking.

No hard work—no rubbing. Results are instantaneous. After the regular cleaning a little Tobey Polish on the dust cloth keeps everything new from day to day.

Try it on a chair or a piano. See what a difference it makes. Use it on your automobile; see how it preserves the factory-new appearance—clean, hard finish that will not collect dust.

Tobey Polish is sold at all the better stores. Costs no more than the other kind. Bottles, 25c, and 50c; Cans $1.—Adv.
